WHAT CAN I EXPECT FROM JROTC?

We aim to keep our cadets and parents informed about what is going on in the Spartan Battalion. Throughout the year, you will receive updates of special events within the program. Furthermore, you can find an endless source of up-to-date information at our program's website, www.sphsjrotc.weebly.com. This site includes training schedules, parent information, upcoming events, team information, curriculum information, and updated policies.

HOW DO I KNOW IF JROTC IS RIGHT FOR ME?

JROTC is a program with something to do for everyone. We have a diverse set of teams with an even more diverse group of people who enjoy the same things as you. JROTC is a great way to start high school (or continue throughout high school, for non-freshmen) by gaining a friend group on the first day of school. These are people you can count on to help you with anything and laugh with you too!

Useful Information

You are not required to participate in after-school Army JROTC activities.

You will learn about the history of the army, principles of leadership, responsibility, Army traditions, life skills, and respect for authority.

Enrollment in the Army JROTC may be for as little as 1 year or as 4 full years of high school.

Any student who successfully completes 3 semesters of the Army JROTC program does not need a health or physical education credit.

WHAT DOES JROTC DO THROUGHOUT THE WEEK?

JROTC emphasizes practicing a diverse set of skills. This means that our program has a very detailed schedule that is released weeks in advance of the actual date to inform our cadets of what to expect early. On a weekly basis, cadets can expect to have Physical Training or Drill and Ceremony Training on Monday, depending on the week. Cadets must wear the Army issued uniform, pair of shirt and pants. The shirt must be tucked into the pants and if you are a male you should be shaved properly as if your in a uniform inspection. On Tuesday, cadets will wear their uniform to school for an entire school day and undergo inspection unless instructed otherwise. Wednesday and Thursdays are designated curriculum days to help learn the skills they will practice throughout the week in various situations and leadership positions. Friday is another Physical Training day, which also requires cadets to wear the Army issued uniform.
